MECHANISMS OF PSYCHOLOGICAL PERSONAL PROTECTION

The problem of psychological defense mechanisms in adolescence has not yet been adequately developed in psychological science

Researchers differently described general cycle of personality development as "the final stage of preparation for social activities" [1, 208 p.]; "important stage of personality development as a subject of labor, knowledge and communication" [2, 108 p.].

Table 1 – The frequency of psychological defense mechanisms in % defense mechanisms	Female	Male	Overall

Displacement	36%	36%	36%
Regression	28%	20%	24%
Substitution *	24%	8%	16%
